Venezia Series – Exceptional Elegance

The Venezia series is characterised by its asymmetrical shape. This is determined by a square handle neck, radiused on one side, that runs out to form a flat handle piece. This allows the handle to be staged in different ways:

If the handle is mounted facing upwards, the solid, forged brass shows off the entire width of the handle. With the handle mounted downwards, the hand rest is shortened and the flowing transition from the handle neck to the handle itself is emphasised. A versatile, interesting handle that suits both timeless and extravagant interior styles.

This duravert series of handles is available as a complete product family.

duravert – for the discerning

With the duravert product line, HOPPE offers unique fitting products for exclusive requirements. Over 70 years of experience in manufacturing architectural fittings flow into each of the special duravert handles.
